

Video Production Teacher

Cranbrook Kingswood Middle Schools are looking for a creative, collaborative, and enthusiastic video production teacher for two sections of its video production class. Each section meets every other day in the afternoon. The video production class introduces students to a wide range of tools and techniques to create original short films. A successful candidate will have experience with the entire film making process, from scripting and storyboarding, through filming, and editing. Requirements: This position requires a Bachelor's Degree with a Film School background preferred. Two or more years of professional or teaching experience is optimal. The candidate must be familiar with Adobe Premiere Elements or Adobe Premiere Pro.
